Reporting & Assessment

Jim McKeever, Little Flower Girls' School

JIM MCKEEVER: The school embarked on a process of assessment and cross-moderation of the cross-curricular skills, between January and June 2008. We made a decision within the school, that we were not going to race to report.

Rather, we decided to get the process of assessment, and indeed the cross-moderation of the cross-curricular skills, as efficient and as effective as possible. In terms of these skills and capabilities, we make a general reference on the individual pupil report, in terms of skills and capabilities in the context of the collaborative units.
