Learning for Life & Work

David Knox, Principal, Ballyclare High School (Grammar)

DAVID KNOX: Learning for Life and Work is taught in special timetabled slots. The whole school is taught together and the Learning for Life and Work classes are taught by form tutors.

The form tutor makes a summative statement on the report, and initially, we are going to use that slot on the report to allow the form tutor to make a comment on the pupil's progress and achievement in the various strands of Learning for Life and Work in the course of the year.
