

Little Flower Next Steps

Northern Ireland Curriculum

Next Steps

Jim McKeever, Little Flower Girls' School

JIM MCKEEVER: The report in the school is still evolving as we become increasingly familiar with the demands of the revised curriculum. For June 2009, for Years 8 and 9, we have three proposed changes we would like to make.

Firstly, in terms of collaborative units, we would like to enhance what we're saying and personalize it somewhat more. Secondly, for the cross-curricular skills, we will continue with the assessment and cross-moderation of the skills, but we're going to report on them specifically for each child. Third and lastly, in terms of skills and capabilities, each subject will include a specific reference to skills and capabilities on the individual pupil report.