Foreword

This booklet outlines the performance of candidates in all aspects of CCEA's Level 1 & 2 Awards and Level 3 Certificate in Creative Crafts (QCF) for this series.

CCEA hopes that the Chief Examiner's and/or Principal Moderator's report(s) will be viewed as a helpful and constructive medium to further support teachers and the learning process.

This booklet forms part of the suite of support materials for the specification. Further materials are available from the specification's microsite on our website at www.ccea.org.uk.

LEVEL 1 & 2 AWARDS AND LEVEL 3 CERTIFICATE IN CREATIVE CRAFTS (QCF)

Principal Moderator's Report

The Creative Crafts Winter Series in 2017 presented a slightly increased entry for the January moderation.

Three centres entered a total of nine candidates.

Level 2 of the Creative Crafts qualification was submitted for moderation across three crafts pathways.

All relevant documentation was completed correctly and complied with CCEA guidelines and it is once again clear that CCEA training greatly benefits tutors and teachers who attend. Attendance at these valuable training events is to be encouraged for all teaching staff involved in the delivery of this qualification. For new centres and staff, the training provided at Agreement Trials is really essential and consistently proves to be very beneficial for tutors, teachers and their candidates.

It is also worth noting that attendance at the training provided gives tutors and teachers, especially those working as single person departments, an invaluable opportunity to meet other colleagues new to the qualification as well as those teachers of greater experience in Creative Crafts. The exemplar material collected during the moderation period by the moderating team is also on hand to provide further insight and support for the staff in attendance.

Level 1

There were no candidates presented for moderation at this level.

Level 2

Crafts pathways presented at Level 2 included; Fashion, Mixed Crafts and Textiles. Entries at this level showed an increase from the moderation of January 2016. Nine candidates were presented at Level 2.

Candidates were of the standard required to achieve the qualification. The Level 2 Portfolio Tracking Booklets were completed to a good standard and accompanied by appropriate supporting evidence. Final outcomes demonstrated individual, personal responses.

Level 3

There were no candidates presented for moderation at this level.

In conclusion, the overall standard presented at this moderation was good. It is pleasing to see that QCF Creative Crafts continues to provide a valuable opportunity for candidates to gain creative, practical skills which can be developed for their own individual needs.

QCF Creative Crafts continues to be a valuable, inclusive and accessible qualification.
