

FICTION

'Reflection' Story

Rewarding Learning

'Good morning!' Katerina thought. She smiled at her reflection in the mirror as she brushed her teeth.

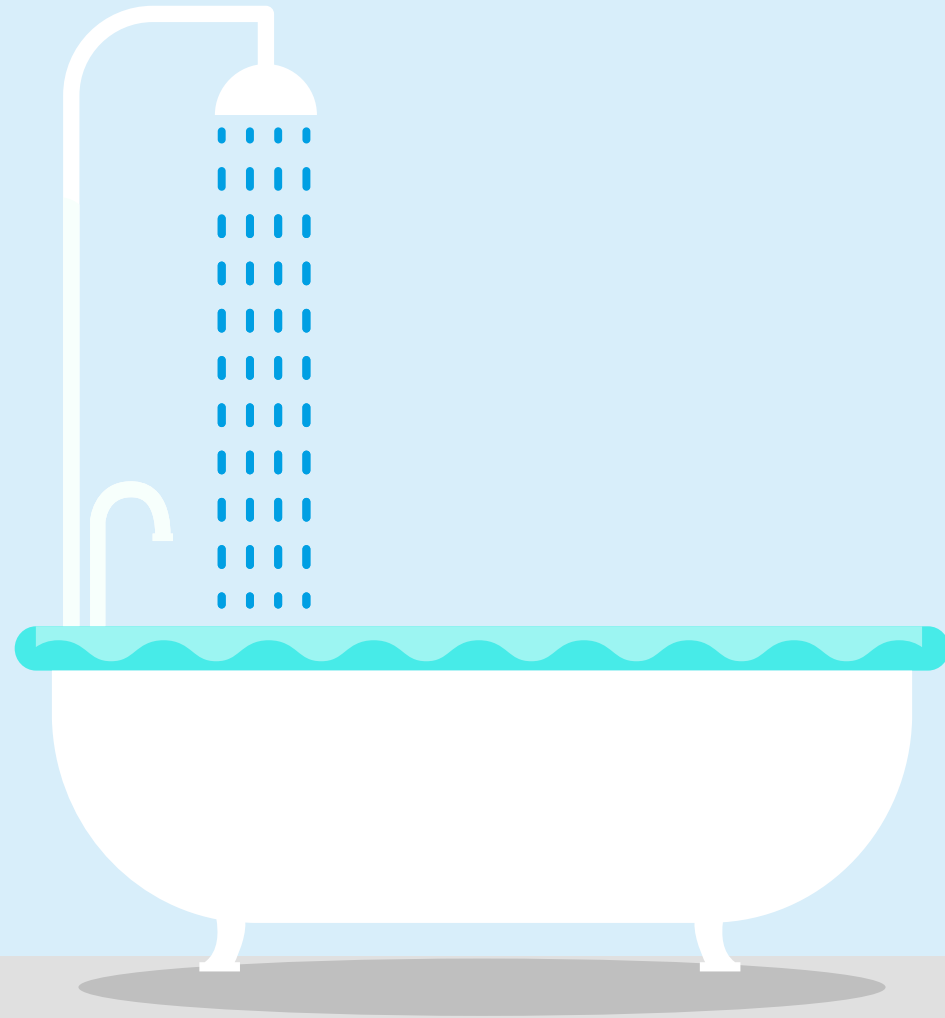

She ate her breakfast and looked at her spoon. She saw her reflection again, but this time she looked slightly different. Katerina turned her spoon around and her reflection was upside down!

Katerina looked up at the sky and saw a beautiful rainbow.

She had lots of fun making shadows for her dog to chase around the garden.

That evening, she had a lovely warm bath and wiped the mirror, which was all steamed up.

Katerina went to bed and turned out the light. She fell asleep while watching the shadows from the car headlights move around her room.