

This game can help you to remember the sorts of things you should be thinking about when you are getting ready to take part in a group discussion.

Planning for a successful Group Discussion

43	44 Your group is not paying you enough attention - use more descriptive language!	45	46 	47	48	49 You have made it!
42	41 	40	39 You are making comments to widen the discussion, giving examples and descriptions - great job!	38 	37	36
29 	30 	31 You are repeating your points - widen the discussion	32	33 You are using tone, pitch, pace and volume to grab the group's attention!	34 You are talking over someone else's point	35
28 	27	26 	25	24	23 	22
15 You have built on what others have said - well done!	16	17 	18	19	20 	21 You are changing your tone of voice and using expression to show how you feel - keep it up!
14	13 Explain your ideas clearly-the group is confused!	12 	11 	10 Listen closely - don't interrupt or get distracted!	9 	8
1 START HERE	2 	3 You follow the main points and ask and answer questions - good stuff!	4 	5 	6 	7 You are explaining your point of view and using lots of different words - good work!

This game can help you to remember the sorts of things you should be thinking about when you are getting ready to make a presentation or speech.

Planning for a successful Presentation/Speech

43		45	46	47 You need to remember to look at your audience!	48 	49 You have made it!
42 You forgot to use your voice to emphasise important points!	41 You've planned your speech thinking about the audience and purpose-up you go!	40	39	38 	37 	36
29 	30 Oh no! A poorly planned speech is hard to listen to – it's the snake for you!	31	32	33 	34 Great use of pauses, facial expression and body language!	35
28 	27 	26 	25 You've planned out your presentation – well done!	24	23	22 Uh oh! You didn't listen carefully to the audience member asking you a question – down the snake!
15 You are explaining your opinions clearly using an appropriate vocabulary – well done!	16	17 Good use of positive body language!	18	19 	20 	19
14	13	12 	11 Oh dear – you haven't made your point very clearly – down the snake you go.	10 You're explaining your view well using an expanding vocabulary – up you go!	9 	8
1 START HERE	2	3 You are listening to questions – good work!	4 	5	6 You are using tone, pitch, pace and volume to grab the group's attention!	7

This game can help you to remember the sorts of things you should be thinking about when you are getting ready to do a role play activity.

Planning for a successful Role Play

43		45	46	47 You're not using your body to express your character's feelings!	48	49 You have made it!
42 Oh no! You've come out of role!	41 You're interesting your listener by using pose, gesture and facial expression – up the ladder!	40	39 You're using the words and phrases your character would use – very convincing!	38	37	36
29	30	31	32	33	34 You are using an appropriate tone, pace and volume when you speak. Well done for emphasising important words!	35
28	27 Uh oh! You're using the same words over and over – remember to vary your vocabulary!	26	25 You are changing your tone as you speak – this is great!	24	23	22
15	16	18	19 You are reacting to questions the way your character might. Wow!	20	21
14 Oh dear – you've lost your focus – down the snake you go.	13	12	11 Oh dear – you haven't made your point very clearly – down the snake you go.	10	9	8 You are explaining your opinions clearly using an appropriate vocabulary – well done!
1 START HERE	2	3 You are maintaining your role – good work!	4	5	6 You are developing your role by adding your own ideas – good job!	7